Mrs. Julia M. Johnson, accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. R. A. Hunter, are on a visit to Atlanta and other places in Georgia this week, visiting friends and relatives.

Col. James L. Orr, of Greenville, S. C., is in attendance on court this week. He is as able for the defence in criminal cases as he was formerly for the State as prosecuting officer.

The little darkey's jubilee season is now on—blackberries are ripe. Some one tried to hire an old darkey recently to hoe cotton. His reply was: "Boss, I don't hoe cotton for no man in blackberry time."

Mr. Chas. H. Carlisle, of Spartanburg, has been spending a few days with his father, who has been quite ill at the home of Rev. M. L. Carlisle. We are glad to learn that the elder Rev. Carlisle is now improving.

The directors of the Bank of Pendleton met on the 25th of June and elected M. M. Hunter, President, and J. J. Sifton, cashier. The erection of a brick building will begin at an early day, and the bank will be open for business October 1st.

We understand that a gentleman living near Westminster has recently fallen heir to about $400,000. This large sum of money comes to him through the death recently of an uncle of his wife, who was living at San Francisco, California, who died, leaving an estate valued at $8,000,000 to $11,000,000.

Mrs. Eliza Harbert, wife of Mr. Jas. A. Harbert, living in the neighborhood of Mt. Tabor Baptist church, this county, has sold since Christmas seventy-three dozen eggs, not counting those eaten by the family and young chickens hatched out from others. Who says eggs and poultry won't pay in this country?

Hon. J. S. Cothran, of Abbeville, is in Wallhalla this week attending court. We are pleased to meet this honored son of South Carolina once more at our bar. He was for many years the able and efficient Solicitor of the Eighth Judicial Circuit, being the predecessor of Col. James L. Orr. He was afterwards elevated to the bench, and while performing most acceptably his judicial duties, was elected to Congress, where he now ably represents the Third Congressional District.

Toccoa (Ga.) News, June 29th: Mr. W. B. Weaver, of Barton's Creek, S. C., brought to the News office cotton in full bloom. His farm is in the Tugalo Valley, a short distance from the Prather bridge crossing. Mr. Weaver without doubt is entitled to the credit of the first cotton blossoms in his latitude, an honor which he has worthily earned, for he has labored diligently to make a first class crop. He had his ground well prepared, planted early, has given good cultivation and is rewarded by the best stand he ever had. The News is pleased to form the acquaintance of so intelligent a planter and such a pleasant gentleman.

Columbia Register, July 2: In accordance with the instructions of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, that the clerical force at the Columbia office of the Collector must be reduced one-half, Messrs. C. R. D. Burns and C. O. Marshall yesterday severed their connection with the office. Mr. Burns has been in the office since September 1, 1887, at first as clerk and more lately as deputy. He has ever been an efficient and popular officer, and has made many friends in Columbia, who will greatly regret the necessity of his departure. He will remove his family to Wallhalla, his old home, and will there resume the milling business, in which he was engaged before accepting office.

The residence of Mr. E. P. Verner, Conners, was the scene of joyous festivities last Thursday afternoon. A large number of guests had assembled to witness the nuptial ceremonies of two of the most popular young people in our county—Mr. T. E. Stribling and Miss Mattie R. Verner. At the hour of five, in response to the strains of a sweet wedding march, the bridal party entered their way to the softly lighted parlor, under the leadership of the master of ceremonies, Rev. J. E. Fogarty, and accompanying the couple in waiting, were Mr. Joe J. Norton, Jr., and Miss Emmie Verner, preceded by three beautiful little flower girls. The simple marriage ceremony was further graced by the symbolic ring and two hearts, mutually presented, were made one. Heart congratulations were followed by a marriage feast worthy of the occasion. We wish the happy young couple a joyous and prosperous voyage through life.

Dr. J. R. Riley, of Pickens, is visiting friends in Wallhalla this week.

Prof. W. V. Vickery, of Georgia, and Mr. George McLane, of Anderson, will conduct a singing at Salem on the second Sunday in July. A very pleasant day is anticipated by those who intend going.

A party of young ladies, consisting of Misses Julia Mickle, Cecelia Bulwinkle, Mattie McChie and Carrie Perry, under the guardianship of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kavin, picniced at Fort Hill last Thursday. They report a delightful trip.

Mr. J. M. Hutchison, engineer on the C. & G. R. R., has been promoted from freight to passenger train. He and his wife are now residents of Wallhalla, having moved here from Belton. They are making their home with the family of H. A. H. Gibson, Esq. We welcome them into our midst.

Miss Mary Stark has returned to Wallhalla for the summer. She is boarding at Dr. Darby's. Miss Stark and her mother's family, whose home is in Florida, have made Wallhalla their summer retreat for several years. We infer from this that they are well pleased with our pleasant little town and pure mountain air. We are always glad to have such excellent people among us.

We had a pleasant call on Monday from Mr. Mitt. Nicholson, Jr., who has just returned home on a visit from Red Fork, Arkansas. He has been gone three years or more and has traveled extensively over Alabama, Arkansas and other Southern States. From a conversation we had with Mr. Nicholson we take it he was not favorably impressed with the States he visited. He likes his own native land the best.

Greenville News, June 30th: Miss Mamie Mathewson died in Westminster, on Thursday, and was buried yesterday, the funeral services being conducted by the Rev. H. Turner Smith, assisted by the Rev. F. C. McDonald, of Gainesville, Ga. She was the eldest daughter of R. A. Mathewson, Esq., one of Westminster's most highly respected and useful citizens. She graduated at the Greenville Female College one year ago, and was twenty years old. Her death cast a gloom over the entire community and will be painful intelligence to hosts of friends here and elsewhere, who knew her as a young lady possessed of beautiful Christian character and many excellent qualities which doubly endeared her to the home circle and the society of her friends. She was a consistent and useful member of the Baptist Church at Westminster.

Toccoa (Ga.) News, June 29th: During the absence of the editor, Mr. G. Wanner, an esteemed friend of Wallhalla, S. C., favored the News office with a call. This gentleman has a very large experience in grape growing and the manufacture of wine. A native of Europe, he is familiar with the methods of vine culture and wine making there; he has visited the most noted grape growing countries throughout the world, and probably few men on this continent possess so complete and varied a knowledge of soil, climate and the various elements essential to the successful cultivation of the vine as he. Persons desiring information on this interesting subject and wishing to purchase vine, grape roots or intending to set out a vineyard, will do well to consult him. He has conferred special favors on the News, for which he will accept sincere thanks.

A correspondent asks us to inquire whether the officers of the Blue Ridge Railroad will make any connection this summer with the South-bound Air Line train, at Seneca, in the morning. According to the present schedule the traveler is compelled to hire a team for Westminster and Seneca two hours before the Blue Ridge train leaves the Wallhalla depot, and make by this method the required connection in the morning. If the railroad authorities do not place Wallhalla on an equal footing with other towns the interest of the grape growers here will be injured on account of having to haul the crop of about 100,000 vines for eight or nine miles over rough roads before they can make the necessary connection. The schedule on the road might be changed for three months. This would enable the grape growers to market their crops, when the present schedule could be resumed. It would evidently be to the interest of the road to make the change and we hope it will be done at an early day.

Court.

The Court of Sessions convened here on Monday, Judge Hudson presiding. Solicitor Ansel was in his seat at an early hour and gave out a number of bills of indictment. Stenographer Aiken was also present, ready to commit to paper every word spoken by lawyers, witnesses and the Court.

In his charge Judge Hudson explained fully and plainly the various duties of the grand jury. After clearly and carefully instructing the jury in the matters likely to engage their attention at the present term of court, he delivered his usual criticism of the jury system. His views on this important matter are so widely known that we forbear comment at present, but will have something hereafter to say on the change which he advocates in the trial by petit jury.

The forenoon of Monday was consumed in organizing the juries and swearing witnesses for the State to testify before the grand jury.

The following cases were disposed of: The State vs. Matt. Scurry—murder. Not arrested.

The State vs. George Washington—burning unlicensed house. Not arrested.

The State vs. James Barton—carrying concealed weapons. Not arrested.

The State vs. N. Boon Cary—breach of trust with fraudulent intent. Indictment quashed for want of jurisdiction and case remanded to trial justice for trial.

The State vs. John C. Nevill, James F. Nevill and Samuel K. Nevill—riot and assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature. Not prosed, the prosecutor having left the State.

The State vs. Walter Wood—burglary and larceny. Not guilty.

The State vs. William Powers—assault and battery with intent to kill and carrying concealed weapons. Guilty on first count and not guilty on second.

The State vs. George W. Freeman and Larkin Webb—murder. Not guilty.

The State vs. Sam. McIlwain—murder. Not bill.

The State vs. Pink Hubbard—buggery. Not bill.

The State vs. James Cox—assault and battery of a high and aggravated nature. Not bill.

The State vs. Andy Luster and Ann Oglesby—adultery. Not bill.

The State vs. W. J. Bright—carrying concealed weapons. Not bill.

The State vs. John Chastain—carrying concealed weapons. Not prosed, the weapon not being a dangerous one.

The State vs. I. K. Hunter, George W. Sadler, Newton Crenshaw—libel. The jury was empanelled in this case and the case is progressing as we go to press. The balance of the jury has been discharged, this being the last criminal case for trial.

Our Schools.

There is nothing in which the people of Wallhalla and community are so vitally interested as education. All will agree that we should have good schools, and none will deny that by united effort that we can have them.

On Thursday last there was a preliminary meeting at the Female College, of a number of citizens of Wallhalla and West Union, the purpose of which was to discuss the school question. The proceedings of this meeting are published in another column, and we ask all our people to give them a careful perusal, and the subject to which they relate earnest consideration. In this important matter those who live in the country round about should feel as much interest as the people of Wallhalla and West Union; it concerns all alike. We desire and expect those living within a radius of two or three miles to co-operate with us in whatever plan for the promotion of educational interests may be adopted. They can patronize our schools with all ease and will reap great benefit from them as those living within the corporate limits. Good schools will promote our material welfare and help to build up the town. A live, enterprising town is an advantage every way to the entire community. Our schools have been neglected. Something must be done. Now is the time to do it. Let us unite in a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together. Let each determine to be guided by the best judgment of the majority. "In union there is strength."

On next Wednesday, July 10th, at 10 A. M., there will be at the court house a public meeting in the interest of education. It is desired to make this a mass meeting of all our people. Let every one feel that he has a special invitation to come and bring others with him. Col. Jas. H. Rice, State Superintendent of Education, will be present and address the meeting. Come and hear him. He will be followed by others in short addresses. All who feel any interest in the education of their children, or in the public welfare, should be present. At the meeting referred to several special committees were appointed. These committees will report at the public meeting. The matters they have in hand are important and demand the attention of all our people. Some plan must be devised by which our schools may be placed on a firmer footing. It is not our purpose here to attempt to outline any plan that has been thought of. Come out to the meeting on the 10th instant and hear what may be said on the occasion. If you have any interest at all in the matter, come; and if you have none, come anyhow.

A Voice from the Tugalo.

TUGALOO HOME, S. C., June 30, 1889.

DEAR COURIER: Judge Webb, formerly of Anderson county, S. C., than whom a better man never left it, died at his home in Hart county, Ga., last week.

We also regret to hear of the death of Miss Mamie Mathewson, of Westminster. Death is a melancholy call at any season, but when we have run the gauntlet of infant mortality and early youth and reached the threshold of blooming womanhood, how hard it is to become reconciled to such a fate as the monster death. The sickness of Westminster is no doubt a local cause, that a strict sanitary search would remove. Some well or decaying debris has produced a germ that ended in the severest epidemics. Eternal vigilance is the price of good health, and if this will give it we had all better be on the alert. Diet has a greater controlling influence and has more predisposition to health than all other influences combined. We speak whereof we know.

Miss Theodosia Barton, of Fair Play, after a two months' visit in Athens, Ga., to her sister, Mrs. Flora Dobbs, has returned home, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Dobbs.

In speaking of Athens reminds us we used to haul corn by wagon fifty miles to barter it at 50 cents per bushel. Said an old fogie farmer: "I believe we would have been better off if the railroads had never come nearer than Athens. I used to get $1 per bushel for my corn, now I can't get but 50 cents." We replied that to have things laid down at our doors cheaper than we could produce them was just what railroads were built for. How is that for internal improvement? Give us railroads and if corn gets down to 25 cents the poor can always have bread to eat and to spare. But there is another idea at war with this cheap corn. We have heard good designing men excuse illicit distillers (it is all illicit) because corn was cheap. "Must sin abound that grace may more abundantly abound?"

Quite a washing rain visited this section Thursday night and there is prospect for more rain.

Miss Emma Gary, of Royston, Ga., is visiting Mrs. L. L. McCurry, of Fair Play. Miss Emma has been giving lessons in penmanship, writes like a "grown person," talks fluently, is a graduate of the Macco school, is prepossessing in manners and what is better than rubies, she is a pure Christian.

There will be an agricultural picnic at Tugalo Home on the 15th of July. For amusement the best acre of corn in the State and possibly of the United States, may be seen, new dots in fishing, agricultural topics discussed, social converse, music, leto-letto conversations and glees, glitter and glimpses of rural life and agricultural hints heretofore not advanced. Bring well filled baskets.

Educational Meeting.

THURSDAY, June 27, 1889.

Pursuant to a call in the Keweenaw Courier, a meeting was held this afternoon at the Female College Chapel for the purpose of discussing plans to locate and erect a more suitable building in which to carry on the Wallhalla Female College. On motion, Mr. D. A. Smith was called to the chair and Mr. V. L. Norman requested to act as secretary.

After due deliberation and discussion the following resolutions were adopted:

1st. That a committee of five be appointed to select a suitable location for said building. The committee consists of Messrs. J. W. Hollenman, H. D. A. Bie-mann, W. A. Strother, H. G. Reed and J. M. Callas.

2d. That a committee of five be appointed to devise plans for raising a fund sufficient to defray the expenses of said building and make other suggestions as to dimensions, &c. Committee consists of Messrs. J. D. Verner, W. J. Stribling, H. F. Alexander, C. L. Reid and H. G. Reed.

3d. That another meeting be called to convene at the court house on Wednesday morning, July 10th, immediately after the address by Superintendent of Education, Hon. J. H. Rice.

4th. That Judge Norton, School Commissioner S. P. Stribling, R. T. Jaynes, Esq., and other speakers be requested to address the meeting.

5th. That these proceedings be published in the Keweenaw Courier, and that a call be made to the people, especially those within a radius of two or two and a half miles of Wallhalla, to attend; that special provision be made for the comfort of ladies, and that they be earnestly invited to be present; that music be secured for the occasion.

Meeting then adjourned.

D. A. SMITH, Chairman.
V. L. NORMAN, Secretary.

Barton's Creek Dots.

BAITON'S CREEK, S. C., July 1st, 1889.

DEAR COURIER: As you remember our last was just on the eve of our picnic, which, from all appearances, was quite a success. We did not have Judge Lewis there, but we had music without pinching the babies. Toccoa, Cleveland, Westminster and Wallhalla were well represented, Wallhalla having sent the Sheriff out to be with us; but the parties he was looking for were not present, but of course we gave him a hearty welcome.

We are enjoying fine growing weather just now, having a little rain every day, but no hard damaging rains.

Mr. W. B. Weaver seems stuck to be in the lead on cotton, having plucked from his field a cotton bloom on the 21st of June. We do not like to concede the idea that he is a better farmer than the balance of us, but just think he has some special method of causing it to grow off faster than we understand.

We have some good farmers and good citizens in this community. One of our most extensive farmers and heaviest tax payers told us the other day he had not made a store account since the war. Reader, can you beat that?

But there is one thing we do ask our County Commissioners for, and that is better roads. There is one section on the Wallhalla and Toccoa road, by way of the Robins' farm, which has not been worked this year, and we notice on the same road where it has been worked, a return of the same old style of making what is called water breakers, which we think would more properly be termed wagon or buggy breakers.

Health is generally good in this section. Nevertheless, death has laid its claims in our midst without respect to age or color. About a week ago a very aged colored man known as Old Uncle Joshua, living on the Dr. Pickens' farm, passed peacefully from this life into eternity.

We deeply regret to announce the severe afflictions and even death realized by our neighbor, Mr. J. R. Spencer. He had a wife and two children. The elder had a severe spell of two weeks, from which it was thought it would not recover; but upon its recovery their babe, of about eleven months, after suffering about three weeks from fever and flux, died on Saturday, the 29th instant. The family and relatives have our deepest sympathies.

We were shocked to hear of the death of Miss Mamie Mathewson. Our sympathies go out especially to the bereaved family and relatives, and the church and Sunday School have sustained a loss which they cannot easily overcome.

W. H. D.

Presentment of Grand Jury July Term, 1889.

To His Honor, J. H. Hudson, Judge Presiding in the 8th Judicial Circuit:

The grand jury in the discharge of their duties respectfully present to the court:

1st. That they have carefully considered all the bills given out to them by the Solicitor and made present thereon in obedience to the instructions given to them by the court.

2d. That they have examined the offices of all the public officers of the county and find them neatly and correctly kept, so far as they were able to ascertain, and no complaints were made against any of them.

3d. That they have visited in a body the common jail of the county and find that the cells of the prisoners need cleansing and purifying; that the orders thereon were offensive and calculated to produce sickness, and they were informed by some of the prisoners that one cell was infested with vermin. With these exceptions they are informed and believe that the jail is neatly kept and the prisoners well provided with wholesome food.

4th. The public roads and bridges of the county, so far as they have been able to ascertain, are in reasonably good condition. In this connection they would recommend that the County Commissioners should have neat and inexpensive signboards put up at the principal forks, crossings and intersections of the various public highways of the county.

5th. The several trial justices of the county have failed to bring up for inspection and examination the records kept by them at this term of the court; but we find that some of them have sent up to the Court of Sessions trivial cases, and very few of any importance. We recommend that they should be more careful in their examinations into all criminal matters brought before them for their investigation.

6th. It has been brought to the attention of the grand jury that Mrs. Helen King and Dargan Hall are living in adultery in this county, and that W. R. Kay, Thomas Kilham, Thomas Earle, Rhoda Howard and Hannah Tensley are material witnesses to prove the same.

7th. Through a committee they visited the poor house farm of the county and find that the farm is well managed and the paupers are well provided for and comfortably kept.

In conclusion we would thank your Honor and the Solicitor for kind favor shown us.

FRANK L. SUTTON, Foreman.

Battle Creek Locals.

BATTLE CREEK, S. C., July 1, 1889.

DEAR COURIER: Crops are all good and looking well.

The citizens of this community held a public meeting on the 21st of June, for the purpose of building a new school house. A building committee, consisting of F. D. Rothell, M. H. Lee and Rev. D. F. Carter, let out the contract for the erection of the building to Rev. D. F. Carter.

Miss Mary A. Rholetter and Miss Louisa C. Rholetter, twin sisters, are two of the most energetic and prosperous farmers in Oconee County. They have about fifteen acres of ground in cultivation, all in corn, which has been well worked and promises a good yield. Miss Fannie N. Pitts and Miss Lizzie L. Pitts, sisters, have also about twelve acres in corn, which have been well cultivated and looks promising.

Mr. T. J. Carter is a noted corn hoer. He hoed three thousand yards of corn in one-half a day. Can anyone in the county beat it?

Rev. D. F. Carter has the finest vegetable garden in Pulaski township. He has a row of beets in his garden sixty-five yards long, the stalks about four inches apart and some of the beets will average three inches in diameter.

Sheriff Moss paid us a visit on a business trip on last Monday night. We carried him to a bee tree cutting and he was greatly disappointed, as the swarm was a young one and the tree did not contain enough honey for the Sheriff to sweeten his tooth.

F. D. R.

Tribute of Respect.

On Thursday, June 27th, 1889, about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the summons of death entered our town and claimed for its victim, Miss Marie Mathewson, a member of our Sunday School, whom we all loved. On Sunday morning, June 30th, the Westminster Baptist Sunday School, of which she was a devoted member, passed the following preamble and resolutions as a tribute of respect to her memory:

Resolved, That while God in his dealings has summoned one so dear to us and so useful to society, that we, as a school, bow submissively to the will of Him who doeth all things well, and realize in this great affliction the wisdom of God.

2d. That our school sustain a great loss in the death of Marie, one who was always ready and willing to help in the cause of her Redeemer, and that we try to imitate her Godly walk, feeling assured as we do that our loss is her eternal gain.

3d. That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved parents, brother and sisters, and pray God that His Spirit may direct them and the sorrowing friends in the way that they may find peace and consolation.

4th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Keweenaw Courier, Seneca Free Press, Westminster Banner and Baptist Courier, with the request that they be published, and the same be recorded in the Secretary's book; also that a copy be sent to the bereaved family.
